BACHELOR OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION (HONOURS) IN SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT (BBA-SCM) 供應鏈管理工商管理（榮譽）學士

Trading and logistics industry has become the lifeblood of Hong Kong's economy, and is one of the major economic pillars of Hong Kong. The need for supply chain talents to support the development of the industry is surging. Benefited by the recently continuous boost of e-commerce and the enhancement of transportation infrastructure and advanced technologies, the industry is growing much more rapidly and dramatically than before. The industry growth has led Hong Kong to become the regional hub in the Asia-Pacific region. It is evident that the Hong Kong International Airport is now one of the busiest and most advanced airports in the region. Its annual cargo throughput volume is doubled that of other airports including Incheon, Dubai and Shanghai.

The growth and prosperity of logistics and air transport industry is contingent upon the availability of a wealth of talent in various areas of supply chain. In response to this increasing demand of manpower, the Bachelor of Business Administration (Honours) in Supply Chain Management (BBA-SCM) Programme has offered two streams of study: Business Logistics and Air Transport starting from the cohort of 2017/18.

The BBA-SCM Programme which was launched in 2010 has now been publicly recognised as one of the largest BBA programmes in the region specialising in SCM/logistics. In 2016, the Programme has achieved the Programme Area Accreditation (PAA) status granted by the Hong Kong Council for Accreditation of Academic & Vocational Qualifications (HKCAAVQ). It has been selected under the Study Subsidy Scheme for Designated Professions/Sectors (SSSDP) since 2015.

If you are interested in pursuing your careers in areas with high potential growth, you are strongly recommended to consider our Programme. You will learn specialised knowledge and skills in Supply Chain Management for your pursuit of professional career development and further studies. You will work closely with your peers and professors with a well-designed academic curriculum supported by small-class settings and modern facilities. Upon completing the programme, you will be a SCM professional with a well-recognised qualification. Above all, you will find enjoyment of studying here.

Gao Min 高敏

(Exchange Programme to Haaga-Helia University of Applied Sciences, Finland in Semester 2, 2025/26)

I'm grateful for the opportunity to participate in an exchange programme in Finland. I studied alongside local supply chain students while exploring ESG solutions and AI applications. I received valuable feedback from Finnish academics to refine my ESG project and broaden my global outlook. I also met a group of like-minded peers who made this journey truly unforgettable. If only I could turn back the clock to early 2026!

SZE Tsz Yan Celine 施紫恩
(Graduate 2023)

I am truly grateful to have embarked on this programme, which has been one of the most rewarding chapters of my university life. Looking back, I was fortunate to be surrounded by a supportive faculty and a vibrant learning environment that encouraged both academic and personal growth. What made this programme especially meaningful was not only its comprehensive curriculum but also the dedication of the professors and industry practitioners who generously shared their knowledge and real-world experiences. Through interactive lessons, mentorship programmes, company visits, and logistics-related internships, we were given countless opportunities to explore the industry beyond the classroom. These experiences helped me broaden my perspective, build lasting friendships, and gain a deeper appreciation of the vital role that supply chain and logistics play in our everyday lives.
